INTRODUCTION

About the Student Manual
The Student Manual at Augusta University (AU) is published by the Division of Enrollment and Student Affairs for the benefit of all students. Every student enrolled at AU is expected to become familiar with the contents of this publication. The Student Manual serves as a compliment to the University’s policy library and to the undergraduate and graduate catalogs. While the Student Manual is a compilation of many different policies and other useful information, students should understand that this publication is not a complete listing of University policies. It is only a guide to assist students with understanding their opportunities, rights, responsibilities, and the operating order of the University. If any portion of this handbook is in direct conflict with the policies of the University, or those of the Board of Regents (BOR), the policies of the University and the BOR will be used.

AU Policy Library
The policy library is an electronic website that houses and makes readily available to users all approved policies and policy language for the University. Policies at the University are vetted and approved through a process managed by the Office of Compliance and Enterprise Risk Management. Approved polices listed on the policy library should be followed and supersedes all previous policies. Policies may change at any time during the year, so it is important to review the most up-to-date version of the policy on the policy library. The policy library can be found here.

Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs
The academic catalogs include information regarding AU’s ten colleges and schools and the degree programs, majors, and course descriptions within each college. Additionally, students can review policies and procedures such as admissions requirements, graduation requirements, course repeat policy, registration and withdrawals. The graduate and undergraduate catalogs can be found here.

Section 1
Students’ Rights

Section 1.1: Privacy of Student Information and FERPA

Students at Augusta University have the right of privacy with respect to personal information.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA or the Buckley Amendment) is a federal law that governs access to students’ educational records, which are records that contain information directly related to a student that are maintained as official working files by the University. Under FERPA, students have the right to gain access to their educational records, and such access includes the right to inspect and review the records, the right to obtain copies of the records (a copying fee may be charged), and the right to challenge or supplement information on file. Public or “directory” information about a student that may be released to anyone upon request includes the student’s name, addresses, campus email address, telephone listing, photograph, academic class standing, dates of attendance, degrees received, and weight and height of a member of an athletic team. Students may request that the University not release directory information by completing a “FERPA Opt-Out Form.” The Form can be obtained by contacting the Office of the Registrar.

Pursuant to FERPA, once a student reaches 18 or attends a postsecondary institution, parents no longer have access to their children’s educational records, unless the student is claimed as a dependent as defined by Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 or the student provides the University with written consent to allow such disclosure. The only exception to this rule is in the case of violations of the University’s alcohol and drug policies by students under age 21. In such cases, information regarding the violation may be released to parents, regardless of whether the student is considered a dependent or independent student.

In general, the University will not release information contained in a student’s educational records to a third party without written consent of the student. However, prior written consent from the student is not required under the following circumstances:

- If it is directory information and the student has not requested that such information be withheld;
- To the parents of a student classified as dependent under the Internal Revenue Code;
- To the parents of a student who violated the University’s alcohol or drug policies, if the student is under age 21;
- To University officials who have a legitimate educational interest;
- To officials at another institution in which the student seeks to enroll;
- In connection with a health or safety emergency if necessary to protect the student or others;
- To financial aid lenders checking enrollment status for loan purposes;
- To authorized representatives of the:
  - Secretary of the United States Department of Education;
  - Office of the United States Comptroller General;
  - State and Local Education authorities as part of an audit or program review;
- In response to a court order and/or subpoena after reasonable effort to notify eligible student (unless ordered not to contact the student by the Court); or
- To an alleged victim of any crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense, the final results of the University conduct proceeding regarding such an alleged offense.

Section 1.2: Speech and Assembly

POLICY STATEMENT

Augusta University holds the First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech, freedom of expression, and the right to assemble peaceably as an essential cornerstone to the advancement of knowledge and the right of a free people. The University is committed to affording everyone the opportunity to engage in peaceful and orderly exercise of these rights in a manner that does not disrupt class, clinic, or research.
PROCESS & PROCEDURES
Federal and State law permits reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions to allow for reasonable regulations of use of campus facilities to support missions for teaching, research, and other forms of learning.

Speaker’s Corners
To facilitate robust debate and the free exchange of ideas, the University has established visible areas on campus as “Speaker’s Corners” that may be used by any person including non-students and other campus guests. This use may be without permission from the University so long as the area has not been previously reserved or scheduled for a particular function, no sound amplification is used, and the participants do not violate other University policies. Designated Speaker’s Corners include:

a) Teardrop on the Summerville campus,
b) South Side of the Jaguar Student Activity Center (JSAC), and
c) East Side of the Student Center on the Health Sciences campus.

If all of the designated speaker’s corners are in use or reserved at the time of the activity, the University may designate another appropriate location to accommodate the activity. Although it is not necessary for a person using one of the designated Speaker’s Corners to obtain prior permission from the University, the University encourages such persons to notify the Office of the Dean of Students for scheduling purposes to minimize possible conflicts.

Nothing in this section shall be interpreted as limiting the right of student expression elsewhere on the campus so long as the expressive activities or related student conduct do not violate any other applicable University policies.

Handbills, Posters, Flyers, Banners, Signs, and Use of Sidewalk Chalk Designated building coordinators, or other University officials may designate areas in classrooms and or in or around University buildings for students or student organizations who wish to post handbills, posters, flyers, banners, signs, and other similar items on campus. However, the University prohibits the posting or display of these items by students or student organizations outside of these designated areas, including on the exterior of any University building, telephone/utility pole, tree, sidewalk, window, trash can, or any other exterior surface located on the campus, including vehicles. Buildings, grounds, and University property may not be defaced. Requests to post fliers within on-campus housing must be submitted to the Department of Student Housing. Sidewalk chalk is permitted, however the use of chalk may be used only on concrete sidewalks where the chalking can be washed away easily by rain, and at least 10 feet from the entrance to any University building.

Section 1.3: Student Complaints

Students at Augusta University have the right to voice opinions and/or complain, whether verbally or in writing, regarding any area of academic or student life without fear of coercion, harassment, intimidation, or reprisal from the University or its employees. Students also have the right to expect a timely response to any written complaint submitted. Defamatory or baseless charges may cause a student to be held responsible for violations of University academic and/or non-academic conduct policies through the academic and/or nonacademic conduct processes.

Student concerns should be resolved at the lowest possible University unit that has the authority to act. Because no single process can serve the wide range of all possible complaints, the University provides specific processes for responding to certain kinds of student complaints. Where University policy provides a specific complaint or grievance procedure, an aggrieved student should use that procedure.

General Complaint Procedures for Students:
Students should try to resolve concerns at the lowest possible University unit and then move to the next level as outlined in this section below. If the student does not know the most appropriate place to submit a complaint or begin the process, he/she can submit the complaint to the Dean of Student Life here. The Dean of Student Life or his/her designee will work with the student to determine the most appropriate University unit to address the issue and assist the student with understanding the appropriate process.

Students may use the following procedures to formally question the application of any University regulation, rule, policy, requirement, or procedure, not otherwise covered by a more specific policy or procedure.

- Step One:
  The student should meet with the appropriate University representative/decision-maker to discuss the complaint and attempt to arrive at a solution. This meeting should occur no later than 25 business days after the action which resulted in the complaint.

- Step Two:
  If the student's complaint is not resolved at Step One, that student should, within 10 business days of the Step One meeting, submit the written complaint to the next level in the University's administrative structure (department chair, director or his/her designee in the administrative unit within which the complaint originated). The complaint should be signed and dated by the student. The name and title of the person to whom the request for resolution at the next level should be addressed can be obtained from the employee in Step One.

  If the student’s issue cannot be resolved by the Step Two administrator, he or she should make a reasonable effort to arrange for a meeting with the student and the employee associated with the original complaint within 10 business days from the date that the request is received. Typically, the Step Two administrator should render a final decision within 10 business days, informing all parties of the complaint resolution decision in writing.

- Step Three:
  If the student’s complaint is not resolved to the student’s satisfaction in Step Two, he/she may continue to the next highest level in the administrative structure of the University—unless the highest level of appeal has been reached—using a similar process as outlined in steps one and two.
Section 2 & 3: Student Code of Conduct
Augusta University

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT
REVISED AUGUST 16, 2017

Non-Academic Student Conduct Process

Section 2.1: Structure of the University Conduct System
The University conduct system, under the direction of the Office of the Dean of Student Life is composed of investigators, administrative hearing officers who are generally University employees, and the University Student Conduct Board. These bodies and officials are charged with hearing and/or reviewing cases of nonacademic misconduct. Cases of nonacademic misconduct involving sexual misconduct will be investigated through a separate process as directed by the Augusta University Title IX Coordinator. Cases involving academic misconduct or academic dishonesty should follow the processes set forth by the colleges in conjunction with University requirements as coordinated by the Vice President for Academic and Faculty Affairs.

Augusta University Student Conduct Board
The University Student Conduct Board is a primary finder of fact and decision-making body in the University’s nonacademic conduct system and consists of students, faculty and staff. Board members, including the chair are appointed by the Vice President for Enrollment and Student Affairs or their designee. Board members will be trained adequately, and individuals tasked with investigating allegations of student misconduct will not be responsible for training Board members. This is to ensure the integrity of the process and to not unduly influence Board decisions.

The University Student Conduct Board, acting through a panel of at least three (3) members (two members plus the chair presiding), hears and decides cases involving alleged individual or organizational violations of the University Code of Conduct, Sexual Misconduct Policy and any other case assigned to it through the nonacademic conduct process. For cases involving potential violations of the AU Sexual Misconduct policy, the hearing panel will be composed of faculty and staff. Decisions of the University Student Conduct Board are final, subject to appeal.

If any member of the Student Conduct Board feels that he/she cannot serve impartially, the member must recuse him/herself from the case. The accused student may request that any member of the Student Conduct Board be excused whenever the student can show cause for bias on the part of the Student Conduct Board member. A written statement that outlines the name(s) of the Board member(s) and the reasons for the claim of bias should be submitted to the Dean of Student Life or their designee prior to the hearing.

Campus Appeals
Decisions involving violations of the Augusta University Code of Conduct and Sexual Misconduct Policy heard through the University Conduct System may be appealed to the Vice President for Enrollment and Student Affairs or their designee. According to Board of Regents Policy Manual 2.5.1, ‘The president of each USG institution shall be the executive head of the institution and of all its departments, and shall exercise such supervision and direction as will promote the efficient operation of the institution.’ To most efficiently and effectively meet the needs of both students and the nonacademic conduct process, the president charges the VPESA with making fair and unbiased decisions that will be considered as the final institutional decision within the student conduct process, unless the decision results in suspension or expulsion of a student.

Other Hearing Bodies
In addition to the University Conduct Process, individual colleges, schools, and professional programs may have individual processes for student discipline and/or to make academic judgments on a student’s fitness for continuance in his or her respective program of study. The department of Housing and Residence Life may place a student’s Housing contract under review for alleged University policy and/or Code of Conduct violations. These additional processes are not intended to be a substitute for the University Student Conduct Process, but are meant to address issues of professionalism, academic progress, and/or breaches of contracts.

Section 2.2: Initiation of University Conduct Process
The University’s conduct process is initiated by a formal written complaint. Formal complaints may be in the form of a police report, Housing and Residence Life incident report, or a written complaint. Formal written complaints should provide as much information as possible such as: (1) type of misconduct alleged; (2) the name and contact information of the individual(s) accused of misconduct; (3) the date(s), time(s), and place(s) of the misconduct, (4) the name(s) and contact information of any individual(s) with knowledge of the incident; (5) whether any tangible evidence has been preserved; and (6) when a criminal complaint has been made. Complaints should be submitted as soon as possible after the event takes place. Upon receipt of a complaint, a determination will be made if the behavior may violate the Code of Conduct, and if so, a prompt, thorough, and impartial investigation will be conducted to determine whether a potential violation occurred and whether a University Conduct charge should be brought. The determination as to whether or not a formal University charge is brought is final and not appealable.

When a complaint has been submitted, and an investigation begins, the student or organization will receive written notification via their University assigned email address, the official form of email communication for Augusta University. Receipt of a formal complaint does not automatically mean a violation occurred. A diligent effort will be made to gather as many facts as possible and the stated conduct process will be followed.

Information from complaints may be shared as necessary to investigate and resolve the alleged misconduct. Complaints shall be investigated and resolved as outlined below. The need to issue a broader warning to the community in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (“Clery Act”) shall be assessed in compliance with federal law. Where appropriate complainants may file a law enforcement report as well as an institutional report but are not required to file both.
Important terms for students submitting complaints are defined as follows:

1. Confidentiality: Where a complainant or alleged victim requests that his or her identity be withheld or the allegations(s) not be investigated, the University will consider whether or not such a request(s) can be honored while still providing a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for the University and conducting an effective review of the allegations. The University should inform the requesting party that the confidentiality cannot be guaranteed.

   Retaliation: Anyone who, in good faith, reports what she or he believes to be student misconduct, participates or cooperates in, or is otherwise associated with any investigation, shall not be subjected to retaliation. Anyone who believes he or she has been the target of retaliation for reporting, participating or cooperating in, or otherwise being associated with an investigation should immediately contact the Office of the Dean of Student Life. Any person found to have engaged in retaliation in violation of the student conduct policy shall be subject to disciplinary action.

2. False Complaints: Individuals are prohibited from intentionally giving false statements to a University official. Any person found to have intentionally submitted false complaints, accusations, or statements, including during a hearing, in violation of policy shall be subject to disciplinary action pursuant to University policy (up to and including suspension or expulsion) and adjudicated under the Student Code of Conduct.

3. Amnesty: Students are encouraged to come forward and to report violations of law and/or student misconduct notwithstanding their improper use of alcohol or drugs. Any student(s) who voluntarily and in good faith reports information to a University faculty or staff prior to any investigation concerning use of drugs or alcohol will not be voluntarily reported to law enforcement; nor will information that the individual provides be used against the individual for purposes of conduct violations. Nevertheless, these students may be required to meet with staff members in regard to the incident and may be required to participate in appropriate education program(s). The required participation in an educational program under this amnesty procedure will not be considered a sanction.

   Nothing in this amnesty procedure shall prevent a university staff member who is otherwise obligated by law (the Clery Act) to report information or statistical data as required.

Not all matters covered under this policy will necessarily involve alleged victims; however, where they are involved, it should be noted that a complainant will not always be the alleged victim but instead may be a third-party witness. The institution may also respond to issues raised by third-party complaints (such as referrals by police) or discovered by staff or through its own investigations.

Sections 2.3: Investigations

Upon receipt of a formal complaint, every effort will be made to gather all of the relevant facts. Throughout any investigation and resolution proceedings, the accused student and alleged victim (if applicable) shall receive written notice of the alleged misconduct, shall be provided an opportunity to respond and shall be allowed to remain silent or otherwise not participate in or during the investigation and resolution process without an adverse inference resulting. If a party chooses to remain silent or otherwise not participate in an investigation, the investigation may still proceed and the policy charges may still result and be resolved. After an initial review of the complaint, and when the allegations are so egregious that, if true, the sanctions may result in suspension or expulsion from the University, the accused student will be notified in writing (via their Augusta University assigned email address) of the pending investigation, the allegations against the student, any possible charges, possible sanctions, the name(s) of the investigator(s), any available support services, and a copy of the Code of Conduct.

Students have the right to respond in writing within three (3) business days of the date on the notification email to admit or deny the allegations, set forth a defense including any facts, names of witnesses, and any documents that may be used. A non-response will be considered a general denial of the alleged misconduct. Any alleged victim shall also be provided three business days to respond to or to supplement the notice.

If the accused student admits responsibility, the process may proceed to the sanctioning phase or may be informally resolved, if appropriate. If, at any point, the investigator determines there is insufficient evidence to support a charge or to warrant further consideration of discipline, the complaint should be dismissed.

Where the potential sanctions for the alleged misconduct may involve a suspension or expulsion, an official investigation must take place as outlined below. The University may consult with the University System Director to determine whether any interim measure(s) are necessary and whether to collaborate with the University during the investigation.

An official investigation will begin and will consist of gathering as much available information as possible, including any available documents, interviews with the accused student(s), complainant(s), and any available witnesses, and the collection of any other available information pertaining to the incident.

Access to Advisors: The accused student and alleged victim (where applicable), as parties to these proceedings, shall have the right to have an advisor—who may or may not be an attorney—of his or her choosing, and at his or her own expense, for the express purpose of providing advice and counsel. The advisor may be present during meetings and proceedings during the investigatory and/or resolution process at which his or her advisee is present. The advisor may advise his or her advisee in any manner, including providing questions, suggestions, and guidance on responses to any questions posed to the advisee, but shall not participate directly during the investigation or hearing process. The student may request to have family members in attendance and shall be limited to two family members, in addition to an advisor.

The person investigating the incident will prepare a written investigative report based on the evidence collected including written notes and any audio recordings of interviews conducted during the investigation. Any known witnesses not interviewed will be noted with a reason for why those individuals were not interviewed. The summary will outline clearly the facts of the case and potential violations of the Code of Conduct and/or Sexual Misconduct Policy, if any.
The initial investigative report will be provided to the accused student and any alleged victims (if applicable) via the students’ University assigned email address. The report should clearly indicate any resulting charges (or alternatively, a determination of no charges), as well as the facts and evidence in support thereof, witness statements, and possible sanctions. The accused student may respond to the report in writing either via email or by hardcopy letter within three (3) business days of the date noted on the email. Any alleged victim shall also be provided three business days to respond to or to supplement the notice. The investigator may update the summary based on the response of both parties. Investigating the incident further may be necessary and the report will be updated, as the investigator deems necessary to complete a final investigative report.

If the accused student indicates that he or she contests the charges, the matter will be set for a hearing, however, the alleged victim and accused student may have the option of selecting an informal process to resolve the issue in certain cases where they mutually agree, except where deemed inappropriate by the Vice President for Enrollment and Student Affairs (or his/her designee) or the System Director. The final investigative report will be used during the University Conduct Process and will be provided to the accused student and any alleged victims before any hearing. The investigator may testify at the hearing and answer any questions from the hearing panel, accused students, and alleged victims (if applicable). Complaints regarding separate incidents will be investigated and adjudicated separately, and will not be combined unless the accused student and hearing officer agrees in writing.

Section 2.4: University Conduct Process

The following is an outline for the complete University conduct process:

1. Notice of Charge
   When a charge is initiated against a student, the involved student will receive written notification in the form of an email and/or letter, asking the student to meet with a representative of that department for a prehearing. This notice will inform the student of the specific policy, rule, or regulation that the student or organization is charged with having violated; the date, time, and place of the prehearing; and any other information deemed pertinent to the specific case.

2. Interim Measures
   Interim measures may be provided at any point during an investigation and should be designed to protect the alleged victim and the community. Interim measures may include, but are not limited to:

   a. Change of housing assignment;
   b. Issuance of a “no contact” letter;
   c. Restrictions or bars to entering certain institution property;
   d. Changes to academic or employment arrangements, schedules, or supervision;
   e. Interim suspension; and
   f. Other measures designed to promote the safety and well-being of the parties and the institution’s community.

   An interim suspension should only occur where necessary to maintain safety and should be limited to those situations where the accused student poses a serious and immediate danger or threat to persons or property. In making such an assessment, the institution should consider the existence of a significant risk to the health or safety of the alleged victim or the campus community; the nature, duration, and severity of the risk; the probability of potential injury; and whether less restrictive means can be used to significantly mitigate the risk.

Before an interim suspension is issued, the institution must make all reasonable efforts to give the accused student the opportunity to be heard on whether his or her presence on campus poses a danger.

If an interim suspension is issued, the terms of the suspension take effect immediately. Upon request, the accused student, he/she will have an opportunity to be heard by the respective conduct officer, Title IX Coordinator, or System Director, as appropriate, within three business days to determine whether the interim suspension should continue.

3. Prehearing
   At the prehearing, a hearing officer will discuss the charges and the nonacademic conduct process with the affected student(s). This meeting is intended to allow the student(s) to ask questions and fully understand the University’s conduct process. During the prehearing, or at some time before a formal hearing, the accused student(s) may choose to have the case be heard administratively. If disciplinary decisions are made by an administrative hearing, the student may appeal the decision(s) by following the process outlined in part six (6) of this section.

4. Notice of Hearing
   If a student will face a hearing before a panel of the University Student Conduct Board, the student will be provided written notice of the charges and the date, time, and place of the hearing along with a copy of the Augusta University conduct process. The student will be notified via their University assigned email address and a hardcopy letter may be sent to the student’s current mailing address that is on file with the University at least five (5) business days prior to the hearing. If the student has not furnished the University with current contact information, Augusta University will make a reasonable attempt to notify the student using the most recent contact information provided.

5. Hearing Process
   Below are procedures used within a University Student Conduct Board hearing. These procedures assume a prehearing has taken place or that a reasonable effort was made to meet with the accused student (and victim if applicable) prior to the hearing date.

   a. Student disciplinary hearings are not intended to be adversarial but educational, conducted in an atmosphere of informality and fairness. Formal rules of process, procedure, and/or technical rules of evidence such as those applied in criminal or civil court are not used in the University conduct process.

   b. A violation of the Code of Conduct has occurred when, by a preponderance of the evidence available, the hearing panel concludes that it is more likely than not that the accused student or organization is responsible for the alleged violation.

   c. The chair of the hearing panel will preside over the hearing. The chair, with the aid of an advisor, will notify all interested parties of the hearing and their rights at the hearing (which will include providing the parties with a list of the members of the conduct board), distribute copies of all relevant materials to the parties and members of the hearing panel before the hearing, and at the beginning of the hearing, explain the process that will be followed.
d. During the course of the hearing, the chair of the panel will make all procedural and evidentiary determinations, which are final.

e. In determining whether the accused student is responsible for violations of the Code of Conduct, the University conduct system may consider information that institutions normally make academic and business judgments, including but not limited to pertinent records, exhibits, and oral and written statements.

f. If the University brings a charge against a student based upon the student’s criminal conviction by any trial court of competent jurisdiction, the criminal conviction may be accepted as a final factual determination that the student has violated applicable University policy. The function of the University’s conduct process will be limited to determining whether the conduct falls within the jurisdiction of the University conduct system and determining the appropriate University sanction under this and other University policies.

g. The parties will have the right to present their own case. This includes the right to make an opening statement, present witnesses and other evidence, to ask questions of witnesses presented by others, and to make a closing statement. The chair of the hearing panel will determine the order in which witnesses present relevant information.

h. For any case where a student victim is involved, he/she will have the same rights and opportunities as the accused student, including but not limited to the following: opportunity for a prehearing or meeting with a hearing officer; opportunity for an advisor of their choosing to attend the hearing; opportunity to review the names of the University Student Conduct Board; opportunity to present information during a formal hearing; opportunity to question the accused student(s) and any witnesses; and the opportunity to appeal decisions of a hearing officer or the Board.

i. As the parties present information for the panel’s consideration, members of the hearing panel, including the chair, may ask questions of the parties and other witnesses concerning the information presented or other information pertinent to the charge. Normally, parties at a hearing will not be limited to a certain number of questions, however, the chair of the panel may determine that one or more questions are not pertinent to the case, and he/she may decide to not ask a question presented, or not allow a question to be asked by any party at the hearing. The Chair will document any unasked questions and reason(s) for not allowing the question to be presented.

j. Students have the right to remain silent during an investigation and during a hearing. Refusal to respond to questions posed during a hearing will not lead to an adverse inference by the hearing panel. However, the hearing may continue, and the panel will use the available information to render a decision.

k. In a case in which the student or organization has admitted the wrongful conduct, the hearing panel may elect to proceed directly into deliberation concerning appropriate sanctions rather than hear evidence of the misconduct. The accused student or organization and the victim, when applicable, may have an opportunity to present a final statement prior to deliberations.

l. At the conclusion of all evidence, the hearing panel will deliberate in private and will determine by majority vote whether it is more likely than not (using a preponderance of the evidence standard) that the student or organization being charged violated the Code of conduct, and if so, will determine an appropriate sanction. For cases that result in suspension or expulsion from the University, the Board must show that the decision—using a preponderance of the evidence standard—was based on substantial evidence. The deliberations of the University Student Conduct Board will be closed to the public.

m. Once a decision is rendered, the accused student (and alleged victim if applicable) will be provided an official letter outlining the decision including any sanctions, a summary of the evidence in support of the decisions, and information regarding the opportunity to appeal.

n. Hearings involving several students or organizations may be consolidated if, in the opinion of the Dean of Student Life or their designee, the issues involved arise from a common nucleus of facts and circumstances.

o. The hearing will be recorded in some fashion. The accused student (and alleged victim if applicable) has the right to have access to this recording for the purposes of preparing for an appeal.

6. Failure to Appear
If a student fails to attend a prehearing, an administrative hearing, or a hearing before a hearing body, the hearing may be held in the student’s absence, which may lead to further charges for Disregard for University Authority. An accused student (and alleged victim when applicable) may request a postponement of a conduct hearing only for extenuating circumstances. A request for postponement must be made at least three (3) hours prior to the hearing and approved by the Dean of Student Life or their designee.

7. Appeal
If the decision by a hearing officer or hearing panel may be appealed, the student or organization must submit a request for appellate consideration to the Office of the Dean of Student Life within five (5) business days of the decision being appealed as determined by the date on the notification email letter.

Basis for Appeal
Cases involving violations of the Code of Conduct and/or Sexual Misconduct Policy heard by any University hearing body may be appealed to the, Vice President for Enrollment and Student Affairs (VPESA) or their designee. The VPESA may appoint a panel of individuals to review the appeal and make a decision. The review will be based solely upon the written request for appellate consideration and the information presented to the University hearing body. The role of the VPESA is not to substitute their judgment for the decision of the University conduct body. Rather, appellate review only considers the following:

i. whether prescribed University disciplinary procedures were not followed such that the fairness of the hearing was impacted, including but not limited to, whether the alleged misconduct falls within the jurisdiction of the University conduct system, whether any hearing questions were improperly excluded, or whether the decision was tainted by bias;

ii. whether the decisions made or sanction(s) imposed by the hearing body were consistent with the weight of the information available; and
iii. whether new evidence exists sufficient to alter the original decision that was not considered at the original hearing and was not known or knowable by the accused student or organization at the time of the hearing.

Once a decision has been made, the student or organization will be notified in writing of the appellate ruling. Decisions by the VPESA are considered as final institutional decisions within the Student Conduct Process unless the decision results in a student’s suspension or expulsion from the University.

If after appeal the decision includes suspension or expulsion from the University, a student may appeal to the Augusta University President within five (5) business days, as determined by the date of the decision letter. Appeals made to the President should be made on the basis indicated in #7 of this section. The appellant will be notified of the President’s decision in writing. The decision of the President will be considered the final decision of the institution.

According to Policy 8.6 of the Bylaws of the Board of Regents, “Any student in the University System aggrieved by a final decision of the president of an institution may apply to the Board’s Office of Legal Affairs for a review of the decision. Review of the decision is not a matter of right, but is within the sound discretion of Legal Affairs. If granted, the discretionary review shall be limited to the record from the institutional appeal process. Each application for review shall be submitted in writing to the Board's Office of Legal Affairs within a period of twenty calendar days following the decision of the president.” The decision of the Board of Regents shall be final and binding for all purposes.

8. Victim Notification
The University will disclose to the victim the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted through the student conduct process. If the victim is deceased as a result of the crime or offense, the information will be provided, upon request, to the next of kin of the alleged victim.

9. Recusals and Challenges of Bias
Any party may submit in writing a challenge of bias of any University official. A written statement that outlines the name(s) of the official(s) and the reasons for the claim of bias should be submitted to the Vice President for Enrollment and Student Affairs or their designee. The designee shall not be the same individual responsible for investigating or adjudicating the conduct allegation. The challenge may be submitted any time prior to the Student Conduct Board hearing and within five (5) business days after the decision of the Student Conduct Board, as determined by the date of the notification email.

10. Actions Including Student Holds
If a student fails to appear in response to a notice of a prehearing, a notice of an administrative hearing, or a notice to appear before the University Student Conduct Board, and/or if a student receives sanctions based on a finding that he or she was in violation of the Code of Conduct and has neglected to complete those sanctions, a hold may be placed on the student’s account. A hold restricts a student’s ability to conduct the following nonexclusive list of activities: register for classes, drop or add classes, obtain transcripts, receive a diploma, and withdraw from the University. It is within the discretion of the office which places the hold to determine under what circumstances a hold may or may not be released.

Section 2.5: University Conduct System Authority and Jurisdiction

The authority and jurisdiction of the University Conduct System is established pursuant to the delegation of legal authority by the University’s President and the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. According to Board of Regents Policy Manual section 2.5.1, The President is “the executive head of the institution and of all its departments, and shall exercise such supervision and direction as will promote the efficient operation of the institution.” The President exercises this delegated authority through the University Conduct System for issues regarding non-academic discipline.

The Student Code of Conduct and the jurisdiction of the University Conduct System shall apply to conduct that occurs on University premises, to conduct that occurs at University sponsored or associated events or activities, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the University community and/or the pursuit of its mission or objectives. The appropriate hearing body shall determine initially whether the University conduct system has jurisdiction to apply the student code to conduct occurring off campus on a case by case basis based on the following considerations:

- Charged student was acting as a representative of the University
- Charged student was traveling to or from campus
- Degree of violence that occurred
- Injuries to students or others
- Incident otherwise would have resulted in a University charge of Sexual Misconduct
- Extent of danger posed to the University community
- Conduct was directed at another member of the University community
- Involvement of a student organization
- Incident may result in a felony charge
- Weapons were involved
- Drugs or alcohol were involved
- Date of incident
- Conduct history of student(s) involved
- Proximity to campus
- Charged student lives on campus

Each student is responsible for his or her conduct from the time of application of admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though conduct may occur during periods between terms of actual enrollment and even if the conduct is not discovered until after a degree is awarded.

The University’s conduct system is designed to further the University’s educational mission and therefore, it is neither comparable to nor a substitute for any federal, state, or local criminal or civil court system. Thus, even if a violation of the Code of Conduct also subjects a student or organization to criminal or civil liability, the determination of whether a violation occurred will be made on the basis of a preponderance of the evidence (whether it was more likely than not that a violation occurred). Any criminal or civil proceeding may use a different or higher standard of proof. It is important for students to realize that each conduct proceeding to which they may be subject occurs on a separate track, and it is not necessary for any campus conduct process to be held in abeyance until off-campus proceedings are completed.

Section 2.6: Mediation

In lieu of a hearing, matters involving personal disputes between students and/or organizations may be mediated, during which all parties involved proceed in a good faith effort to resolve the conflict on a basis that is fair and just for all parties. Once the parties agree to proposed solutions (e.g., sanctions, restitution, etc.), the resolution is confirmed in a letter. Failure by any party to accept and/or comply with the mediation resolution terms will result in the incident being forwarded through appropriate student conduct channels.

Sections 2.7: Disciplinary Sanctions

Below is a nonexclusive list of sanctions available to nonacademic conduct decision makers. In determining the severity of sanctions or corrective actions, the hearing officer or hearing panel should consider the frequency, severity, and nature of the offense, history of past conduct, the accused student’s willingness to accept responsibility, strength of the evidence, previous response by the institution to similar conduct, and the wellbeing of the university community.

Oral reprimand/warning – an oral statement of disapproval with or without written follow-up communication.

Written reprimand/warning – a written notice to the student or organization of the inappropriate nature of the conduct.

Disciplinary probation – a written reprimand to a student or organization for violation of specified regulations. Probation is for a definite period of time and includes the possibility of more severe sanctions if the student or organization is found to violate any University rules and regulations during the probationary period.

Social probation – prohibits an organization from sponsoring or participating in any organized social activity, party, or function; prohibits a student from participation within social organizations on campus or representing the University as a member of a group.

Loss of privileges – denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time. This may include, but is not limited to, loss of visitation rights, denial of participation in specific programs, denial of participation in University-related organizations or groups, denial of the right to attend University-sponsored events, and denial of access to campus resources or facilities.

Fines – monetary fines may be assigned.

Restitution – compensation for loss, damage, or injury. Restitution may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.

Community service – work assignments for the benefit of the University or community. Community service assignments must be approved by the Dean of Student Life or their designee. If the student or student organization assigned community service does not complete the community service hours by the assigned completion date, the student may have a hold placed on his or her account, and may be found in violation of "Disregard for University Authority" and subject to additional University sanctions.

Assessment – a student may be required to attend sessions with a counselor for an assessment, either through the University’s Counseling Center, Student Health Services, or outside provider.

Substance Abuse Education – a student may be required to meet with a substance abuse educator, attend programs, or complete courses designed to help the student deal with substance abuse issues and learn from the experience.

Educational requirements -- actions that will enhance the educational impact of the student discipline process on the student. This may include oral or written reports to the Dean of Student Life or other appropriate hearing body or officer. Educational sanctions are designed to increase the student’s understanding of how his or her behavior affects others. Educational requirements when used as a disciplinary sanction within the Code of Conduct will not be related to any course or coursework required for the completion of a degree.

Loss of recognition – a student organization may lose its recognition on campus as a chartered student organization. The Dean of Student Life will notify any national or regional governing body with which the organization is associated or which sponsors social, academic, or sports events when such loss of recognition is imposed so that the full impact of this decision may be understood.

Parental notification – parents may be notified of violations of the alcohol and drug policies if the student is under the age of 21.

Suspension – separation of the student or organization from the University for a definite period of time, after which the student or organization is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. The University may not accept or transfer academic credit for courses taken or academic work performed during the suspension.

Expulsion – permanent separation of the student or organization from the University community.

The student expelled is not allowed to enroll or participate in University programs or enter University facilities without the permission of the Department of Public Safety, and the Office of the Dean of Student Life. Exceptions to this rule include but are not limited to the following: ticketed events where the person is admitted by presenting a ticket to gain entry such as athletics events; being admitted to, using for clinical services, or visiting a patient at one of the University’s health sciences clinics, hospitals, or other health care facility.

For student organizations, “Expulsion” means the organization will no longer be officially recognized by the University and all organizational activities such as recruiting and gathering for the purpose of meeting as an organization must cease. The organization will no longer be able to request funding from SGA or Student Activities Fee Committee, reserve facilities on campus, or other privileges granted to recognized student organizations.

Sections 2.8: Interim Suspension While Charges Pending

Under ordinary circumstances, a student charged with a violation of the Code of Conduct will remain free to attend class and engage in all other University functions and activities while discipline charges are pending. However, some or all of a student’s privileges may be limited or suspended by the Dean of Student Life or designee on an interim basis pending the outcome of the University conduct process. The Dean of Student Life may limit or suspend student privileges when the Dean determines that the accused student poses a serious and immediate danger or threat to persons or property. An interim suspension or withdrawal of privileges does not replace the regular University conduct process, which shall proceed in the normal course up to and through a University conduct hearing and appeal(s).

Before issuing an interim suspension to a student, the Dean of Student Life will make all reasonable efforts to give the student an opportunity to be heard on whether his or her presence on campus poses a danger. When requested in writing by the accused student, a hearing to determine whether the interim suspension should continue will be held within three (3) business days of the request.

Section 2.9: Simultaneous University, Local, State, or Federal Actions

Augusta University nonacademic conduct system is designed to further the University’s educational mission and therefore, it is neither comparable to nor a substitute for any federal, state, or local criminal or civil court system. Thus, even if a violation of the Code of Conduct also subjects a student or organization to criminal or civil liability, the University conduct system will determine whether a violation occurred on the basis of preponderance of the evidence (whether it was more likely than not that a violation occurred). Any criminal or civil proceeding may use a different or higher standard of evidence. It is important for students to realize that each judicial or disciplinary proceeding to which they may be subject occurs on a separate track, and it is not necessary for any campus conduct process to be held in abeyance until off-campus proceedings are completed. Nevertheless, the University conduct system may accept a criminal conviction by any trial court of competent jurisdiction as a final factual determination that the student has violated applicable University policies within the Code of Conduct.

The University conduct process does not affect the jurisdiction of the courts and other civil authorities over any Augusta University student. Membership in the University community does not create any privilege or immunity from the laws and other regulations that apply equally to all residents of the state of Georgia.

Section 2.10: Disciplinary Record Retention

Nonacademic conduct decisions, including the imposition of disciplinary sanctions shall be noted within a student’s confidential disciplinary record maintained by the Office of the Dean of Student Life or other applicable campus department. Student disciplinary records shall not be disclosed to third parties except as required by the Campus Security Act or allowed by the Federal Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Records of student disciplinary hearings will be retained under the direction of the Office of the Dean of Student Life or other appropriate conduct body or officer for at least ten (10) years following the date of the original student conduct decision. If a case involves suspension or expulsion from the University or involves ongoing or pending litigation, the records may be kept longer.

Section 3: Student Responsibilities

Introduction
What follows is a compilation of ideals and values that are meant to protect and educate students. The language here is meant to protect the integrity of the learning environment while also educating students about behavior that is appropriate here at Augusta University and in greater society. Students who are alleged to have violated the Code of Conduct will be provided due process as outlined in the Non-Academic Student Conduct Process, and if found to have violated the Code of Conduct, will be sanctioned accordingly. If the behavior violates any local, state, or federal law, the student may face arrest and be subject to prosecution and/or civil liability.

Section 3.1: Presentation of Identification
Students at Augusta University have the responsibility to present University identification to authorized University personnel upon request, including, but not limited to, University police officers, Residence Life staff, faculty, staff, and administrators.

Failure or refusal to present an identification card upon request to any University official may result in disciplinary action.

The University issues each student a photograph identification card, known as the JagCard, at the time of registration. This card is to be used to identify the recipient as a student of Augusta University. Students may be asked to present their identification card to participate in various University sponsored events, enter secure buildings, and at other times during their tenure. This card is a valuable document and should be in the student’s possession at all times.

Students are required to wear their issued identification card while on the Health Sciences campus, or any other clinical facility operated by the University. The badge must be visible at all times and presented upon request.

Any misuse, including but not limited to the lending of and selling of an identification card by its holder or the use or attempted use by another person may result in cancellation of privileges provided and disciplinary action.

The loss or theft of a student’s identification card should be reported immediately to the JagCard Office. A substitute card will be issued (a fee may be charged for this service).
Section 3.2: Drugs and Drug Paraphernalia

Augusta University unequivocally prohibits the illegal use, possession, distribution, sale, manufacture, and delivery of illicit drugs including the misuse of prescription medications by members of its community. The possession, sale, and distribution of drug paraphernalia by members of the University community also is prohibited. These items include, but are not limited to, pipes, bongs, rolling papers, and syringes. Illegal drugs, including prescription drugs for which the person does not have a valid prescription, and drug paraphernalia are subject to confiscation by law enforcement.

The University also prohibits behavior that is a direct result of drug consumption, use, or abuse. Any student found to be visibly overcome by the use of drugs, or driving under the influence of drugs may be in violation of this policy.

Violation of this policy will result in disciplinary action and individuals also may be subject to criminal prosecution and/or civil liability.

The Drug-Free Post-Secondary Education Act of 1990 states that Any student of a public educational institution who is convicted, under the laws of this state, the United States, or any other state, of any felony offense involving the manufacture, distribution, sale, possession, or use of marijuana, a controlled substance, or a dangerous drug shall as of the date of conviction be suspended from the public educational institution in which such person is enrolled. The suspension shall be effective as of the date of conviction…. and shall continue through the end of the term, quarter, semester, or other similar period for which the student was enrolled as of the date of conviction. The student shall forfeit any right to any academic credit otherwise earned or earnable for such term, quarter, semester, or other similar period; and the educational institution shall subsequently revoke any such academic credit which is granted prior to the completion of administrative actions necessary to implement such suspension. (Georgia Code Ann. §20-1-23 (2015))

Student organizations which knowingly permit illegal drug activity may be found in violation of this policy which could result in the loss of recognition as a student organization at Augusta University.

Section 3.3: Alcohol on Campus

Augusta University seeks to maintain an environment that is conducive to living, leaning, and working, and therefore aims to limit the instances of illegal and abusive drinking on campus. The unlawful possession and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages by students on all Augusta University campuses is prohibited. Students residing in University owned or operated residence halls should refer to the Housing and Residence Life Handbook. Additionally, behavior that is a direct result of alcohol consumption, such as being visibly overcome by the consumption of alcohol and illegally driving under the influence of alcohol is prohibited.

The distribution of alcoholic beverages without a license is illegal and thus prohibited. The University prohibits items that provide for a common distribution of alcohol on its campus. Examples may include but are not limited to kegs, mini kegs, and unattended coolers or bars available to anyone.
Rapid consumption techniques and devices and drinking games by their nature promote abusive drinking and are therefore prohibited. Examples may include but are not limited to the following: funnels, shots, and beer pong.

ALCOHOL ABUSE AND HEALTH RISKS
There are long-term health risks associated with drinking over time. These risks include damage to the heart, liver, and brain. However, it should be noted that the vast majority of our health risks occur over the course of a single evening, not after decades of abuse. A college-aged student has a much higher risk of an alcohol-related injury caused by a car crash, slipping or falling, getting into a fight, etc. than developing cirrhosis of the liver.

Still, these long-term health risks are important to know because if a person is currently a heavy drinker, has been so in the past, or plans on continuing drinking in this manner in the future, that person ought to know the consequences and damage. There are a number of long-term health risks involved with chronic alcohol abuse; risks in addition to other physical effects such as weight gain, dry skin and a compromised immune system.

Section 3.4: Tobacco-Free Campus
Augusta University prohibits the use of tobacco products on any property owned, leased or controlled by Augusta University, Augusta University Medical Center, or the Physicians Practice Group.

Reason for Policy
The use of tobacco products is widely accepted as a leading cause of avoidable death. The mortality and morbidity of tobacco use has adverse effects among tobacco users and non-users alike including respiratory disorders, heart disease and various forms of cancer. Tobacco smoke contains 7,000-plus chemical compounds, more than 70 of which are known or suspected to cause cancer. People exposed to secondhand smoke absorb nicotine and other toxic chemicals just as smokers do.

Because of the deleterious effects of tobacco use, Augusta University, AU Medical Center, and the AU Medical Associates have committed to a tobacco-free campus for the purpose of promoting a healthy environment for all persons, including faculty, students, staff, visitors, and others who visit the campus.

Definitions:
Augusta University property – includes but is not limited to all buildings, surrounding land, parking lots, parking decks, green space, and adjacent sidewalk areas owned, leased or controlled by Augusta University, AU Medical Center, or the AU Medical Associates.

Green space – Green space includes the landscaped and grassy areas of the campus.

Tobacco-related product – Any product derived from tobacco, including but not limited to cigarettes, e-cigarettes, cigars, bidis, kreteks, pipes, and smokeless or spit tobacco.

Tobacco Cessation support is available through the AU Cancer Center 706-721-6744
Section 3.5: Fraud, Including False Identification, and Other Acts of Dishonesty

Augusta University strictly prohibits the alteration, falsification, or other misuse of a student’s documents or of Augusta University documents, records, or forms of identification. Additionally, the University prohibits the misuse of any state-issued or federally issued identification (e.g., driver’s license), including the possession of fake or fictitious identification or the possession of identification belonging to someone other than the student.

In addition to the examples indicated above, fraud and other acts of dishonesty may include, but are not limited to, the following: furnishing false information to the University including providing known false accusations of misconduct, forgery, unauthorized alteration of any official documentation, misuse of a University official’s signature, inappropriate use of a student identification card, misuse of information technology user id’s and/or passwords, offering a bribe of favor to a University official to influence a decision, and fraudulent misrepresentation of one’s organizational affiliation(s) or sponsorship(s). Unauthorized use of the name of the University or the names of members or organizations in the University community also is considered fraud.

Section 3.6: Disregard for University Authority

Augusta University expects all of its students to comply and to refrain from interfering with University officials acting in performance of their duties. This rule prohibits, but is not limited to, the following:

1. failure to comply with the reasonable and lawful directions or requests of University officials, including, but not limited to, campus police officers, security officials, faculty, and residence hall staff;

2. failure to comply with a written notice to appear during any investigation, conduct proceeding, or appeal procedure;

3. falsification, distortion, or misrepresentation of information before a hearing body or any University official prior to or during any investigation, conduct proceeding, or appeal procedure;

4. disruption or interference with any investigation, conduct proceeding, or appeal procedure;

5. attempting to discourage an individual’s proper participation in, or use of, the conduct, complaint or grievance processes;

6. attempting to influence the impartiality of a member of a conduct board or hearing body, the charging party, a witness, or victim prior to, during the course of, or after the conduct or other similar University proceeding;

7. harassment (verbal or physical) and/or intimidation of a member of a conduct board or hearing body, the charging party, a witness, or victim prior to, during the course of, or after the conduct or other similar University proceeding;

9. influencing or attempting to influence another person to commit an abuse of the conduct, complaint or grievance processes;

10. intentionally or recklessly submitting false accusations or charges through any University conduct, complaint, or grievance process; and

11. attempting to bribe or influence another person with an offer of money, gifts, or services to perform an act or provide a service contrary to University policy.

Section 3.7: Disorderly Conduct
Augusta University prohibits behavior that disrupts the academic, research or service mission or activities of the University, or disrupts any activity or event of the University community. Some examples of disorderly conduct include, but are not limited to, the following: conduct which causes a breach of the peace; lewd, obscene or indecent conduct; conduct which interferes with or disrupts activities or functions sponsored or participated in by the University or by members of the University community; conduct that is disruptive to a classroom lecture, lab, or other teaching or research entity of the University, interfering with or obstructing pedestrian or vehicular traffic; obstructing or interfering with ingress or egress of campus buildings or facilities; conduct which interferes with the rights of others; unauthorized use of electronic or other devices to make an audio or video record of any person without his or her expressed or implied consent when such recording is likely to cause injury or distress.

Section 3.8: Gambling
Augusta University prohibits any student from unlawfully conducting, organizing, or participating in any activity involving games of chance or gambling on campus including within any University-operated residence hall.

The sections outlined in this Code of Conduct regarding Endangering the Safety of Others, Harassment, Stalking and Cyberstalking, Hazing, and Sexual Misconduct are behaviors that may include discrimination in some form that is protected by law. In addition to the University’s conduct process, the University provides a mechanism to address grievances that may arise over sexual harassment (including sexual assault and relationship violence) or alleged discrimination on the basis of race, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, sexual identity, religion, veteran’s status, age, national origin, or handicap as prohibited by Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, and Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Incidents of discrimination should be reported to the Office of the Dean of Student Life, The University’s Title IX Coordinator, and/or the Office of Employment Equity.

Section 3.9: Endangering the Safety of Others
Students at Augusta University have the responsibility to refrain from conduct which causes bodily harm to others. The University prohibits purposely, knowingly, or recklessly causing or attempting to cause bodily injury to another; purposely, knowingly, or recklessly placing another in fear of serious bodily harm; and intentional, reckless, or negligent conduct that threatens or endangers the health or safety of any student, faculty, staff member, or guest of the University.

Section 3.10: Harassment
Students and other members of the Augusta University community have the right to an environment free of conduct that unreasonably interferes, hinders, or otherwise denies another a suitable working, living, or learning environment. Therefore, members of the University community should refrain from harassing others or creating an environment that denies others a suitable working, living, or educational environment.

For conduct to violate this policy, the conduct must be more than merely offensive; it must be so offensive, pervasive, and/or severe it would effectively deny the victim access to the University’s resources and opportunities, unreasonably interfere with the victim’s work or living environment, or deprive the victim of some other protected right. Examples of conduct prohibited by this policy include, but are not limited to, the following: intentionally inflicting severe emotional distress or harm; fighting words (words that actually tend to provoke immediate violent reaction); obscene, lewd, or lascivious conduct; defaming another (a false statement that harms the reputation of another); and speech or conduct based upon race, color, gender, gender identity, national origin, religion, age, disability, veteran status, or sexual orientation that is so offensive and repeated, pervasive, or severe as to deny the victim access to the resources and opportunities of the University.

This policy shall not be construed to impair any constitutionally protected activity, including speech, protest, or assembly.

Section 3.11: Stalking and Cyberstalking
The term “stalking” means engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for his or her safety or the safety of others or suffer substantial emotional distress. This policy shall not be construed to impair any constitutionally protected activity, including speech, protest, or assembly. When such conduct includes expression or speech, the conduct must be more than merely offensive; it must be so offensive, pervasive, and/or severe it would effectively deny the victim access to the University’s resources and opportunities, unreasonably interfere with the victim’s work or living environment, or deprive the victim of some other protected right.

Section 3.12: Hazing
Augusta University prohibits hazing in any form. According to hazingprevention.org, hazing is any action taken or situation created, regardless of the person’s willingness to participate, that causes embarrassment, harassment, ridicule, or risks emotional and/or physical harm to members of a group or team.
Examples include but are not limited to the following:

- Requiring new members/rookies to perform duties not assigned to other members
- Socially isolating new members/rookies
- Line-ups and drills/tests on meaningless information

Section 3.13: Sexual Misconduct

Augusta University strives to create a safe, respectful, and non-threatening environment for its students. All members of the community are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that does not infringe upon the rights of others. Sexual Misconduct in any form is dangerous and deleterious to the learning environment. Therefore, all acts of sexual misconduct are prohibited.

Students and employees are strongly encouraged, and in many cases may be required to report instances of sexual misconduct to a Title IX Coordinator. The University has adopted the Board of Regents Policy on sexual misconduct. The Augusta University Sexual Misconduct policy can be found at the following web address: http://www.augusta.edu/prevention/.

The Sexual Misconduct policy provides definitions of what constitutes acts that are prohibited, and provides the process for addressing violations of the Sexual Misconduct policy. Please refer to the Augusta University Sexual Misconduct policy for specific information related to acts of misconduct, reporting, investigations of acts, and the disciplinary process to be used to investigate and adjudicate instances of sexual misconduct.

Section 3.14: Respect for Property and the Property Rights of Others (Theft)

Augusta University prohibits intentional interference with the property rights of others, whether by theft, attempted theft, unauthorized possession of, or causing damage to the property of others, or the possession, retention, or disposal of stolen property. Theft of another’s identity also is prohibited under this policy.

The willful abuse or damage to property is prohibited. Examples include, but not limited to the following: littering, vandalism, or defacing of University property or the property of students, faculty, staff, and guests. It is expected that all members of the University community will treat the property of the University and of others with respect. Students will be held responsible for any destruction or damage to University or personal property and may face discipline through the University conduct system, as well as criminal and/or civil liability.

2. Any student found willfully to have tampered with, damaged, or misused any fire protection equipment, initiated a false alarm, negligently discharged a fire extinguisher, or set fire in a residence hall or any other facility on the University campus may be expelled from the University and held responsible for the cost of all damages. In addition to disciplinary action through the University conduct system, students and/or their nonstudent guests who engage in such activity may be subject to criminal prosecution and civil liability.

3. Occupants of all University facilities have a responsibility to follow the directions and directives of the fire department, or a designated representative, and University personnel during fire emergencies as well as unannounced fire drills and practice evacuations. The failure or refusal to cooperate will constitute a breach of regulations and is subject to disciplinary action.

4. The University prohibits the possession, use, or threatened use of explosive devices, materials, or chemicals, including, but not limited to, firecrackers, cherry bombs, bottle rockets, and dynamite.

5. Any student found willfully to have tampered with, damaged, or misused any campus emergency protection equipment or initiated a false alarm may be expelled from the University and held responsible for the cost of all damages. In addition to disciplinary action through the University conduct system, students and/or their nonstudent guests who engage in such activity may be subject to criminal prosecution and civil liability.

Section 3.16: Possession of Weapons
Consistent with Georgia state law (§16-11-127.1), Augusta University prohibits the unlawful possession of a weapon on university property or at a university function. The possession of a weapon in violation of this policy may subject one to criminal liability, removal from campus events or facilities, employment discipline, and/or other university sanctions.

Any initial violation of this policy will result in a warning to conform to an appropriate sound level, and a second violation may result in disciplinary action. There may be places and times at the University where this policy is more restrictive, i.e., within the residence halls during quiet hours. Whether a warning is given for such a violation is at the discretion of the University official addressing the situation.

Section 3.20: Information Technology Appropriate Use

It is considered a violation of the Augusta University Code of Conduct for any student to violate the University’s Acceptable Use of Information Technology policy. The official University policy can be found at the following web address:

Section 3.21: Retaliation

Any act of retaliation is prohibited when, in good faith, someone reports what they believe to be a violation of any Augusta University policy, including the Code of Conduct, participates or cooperates in, or is otherwise associated with any investigation. Anyone who believes they have been the target of retaliation should report the actions to the Dean of Student Life or designee as soon as possible.

Section 3.22: Observance of Local, State, and Federal Criminal Laws

Students at Augusta University have the responsibility to refrain from conduct that would violate local, state, or federal criminal laws. Students violating local, state, and/or federal laws may be subject to disciplinary action in addition to criminal prosecution.

Section 4

Augusta University

Sexual Misconduct Policy

Policy Statement

In accordance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (“Title IX”), Augusta University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in any of its education programs or activities or in employment. Augusta University is committed to ensuring a safe learning and working environment for all members of the community. To that end, this Policy prohibits sexual misconduct, as defined herein.
In order to reduce incidents of sexual misconduct, University System of Georgia (USG) institutions are required to provide prevention tools and to conduct ongoing awareness and prevention programming and training for the campus community. Such programs will promote positive and healthy behaviors and educate the campus community on consent, sexual assault, alcohol use, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, bystander intervention, and reporting.

When sexual misconduct does occur, all members of Augusta University are strongly encouraged to report it promptly through the procedures outlined in this Policy. The purpose of this Policy is to ensure uniformity throughout Augusta University in reporting and addressing sexual misconduct.

Reporting Structure

All Equal Opportunity directors and others having responsibility for coordination of Title IX (“Coordinators”) at USG institutions shall have a direct reporting relationship to both the institution’s President or the President’s designee and the USG System Director for Equity and Investigations (“System Director”). The President of each institution shall determine the organizational and operating reporting relationships for the Coordinators at the institution and exercise oversight of institutional issues relating to sexual misconduct. However, the System Director shall have authority to direct the Coordinators’ work at each institution as needed to address system-wide issues or directives. The President of each institution shall consult with the System Director on significant personnel actions involving Coordinators, to include but not be limited to, appointment, evaluation, discipline, change in reporting structure, and termination.

Definitions and Prohibited Conduct

Community: Students, faculty, and staff, as well as contractors, vendors, visitors and guests.

Complainant: An individual lodging a complaint. The complainant may not always be the alleged victim.

Consent: Words or actions that show a knowing and voluntary willingness to engage in mutually agreed-upon sexual activity. Consent cannot be gained by force, intimidation or coercion; by ignoring or acting in spite of objections of another; or by taking advantage of the incapacitation of another where the respondent knows or reasonably should have known of such incapacitation. Minors under the age of 16 cannot legally consent under Georgia law.

Consent is also absent when the activity in question exceeds the scope of consent previously given. Past consent does not imply present or future consent. Silence or an absence of resistance does not imply consent.

Consent can be withdrawn at any time by either party by using clear words or actions.

Dating Violence: Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the alleged victim. Dating violence includes, but is not limited to, sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse. Dating violence does not include acts covered under the definition of domestic violence.

Domestic Violence: Violence committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the alleged victim; by a person with whom the alleged victim shares a child in common; by a person who is cohabitating with, or has cohabitated with, the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, or by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the alleged victim.

Incapacitation: The physical and/or mental inability to make informed, rational judgments. It can result from mental disability, sleep, involuntary physical restraint, status as a minor under the age of 16, or from intentional or unintentional taking of alcohol and/or other drugs. Whether someone is incapacitated is to be judged from the perspective of an objectively reasonable person.

Nonconsensual Sexual Contact: Any physical contact with another person of a sexual nature without the person’s consent. It includes but is not limited to touching (or penetrating) of a person’s intimate parts (such as genitalia, groin, breasts, or buttocks); touching (or penetrating) a person with one’s own intimate parts; or forcing a person to touch his or her own or another person’s intimate parts.

Confidential Employees: Institution employees who have been designated by the Institution’s Coordinator to talk with an alleged victim in confidence. Confidential Employees must only report that the incident occurred and provide date, time, location, and name of alleged respondent (if known) without revealing any information that would personally identify the alleged victim. This minimal reporting must be submitted in compliance with Title IX and the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (“Clery Act”). Confidential Employees may be required to fully disclose details of an incident in order to ensure campus safety.

Privileged Employees: Individuals employed by the institution to whom a complainant or alleged victim may talk in confidence, as provided by law. Disclosure to these employees will not automatically trigger an investigation against the complainant’s or alleged victim’s wishes. Privileged Employees include those providing counseling, advocacy, health, mental health, or sexual-assault related services (e.g., sexual assault resource centers, campus health centers, pastoral counselors, and campus mental health centers) or as otherwise provided by applicable law. Exceptions to confidentiality exist where the conduct involves suspected abuse of a minor (in Georgia, under the age of 18) or otherwise provided by law, such as imminent threat of serious harm.

Respondent: Individual who is alleged to have engaged in conduct that violates this Policy.

Responsible Employees: Those employees who must promptly and fully report complaints of or information regarding sexual misconduct to the Coordinator. Responsible Employees include any administrator, supervisor, faculty member, or other person in a position of authority who is not a Confidential Employee or Privileged Employee. Student employees who serve in a supervisory, advisory, or managerial role are in a position of authority for purposes of this Policy (e.g., teaching assistants, residential assistants, student managers, orientation leaders).

Sexual Exploitation: Taking non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another for one’s own advantage or benefit, or for the benefit or advantage of anyone other than the one being exploited.

Examples of sexual exploitation may include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Invasion of sexual privacy;
2. Prostituting another individual;
3. Non-consensual photos, video, or audio of sexual activity;
4. Non-consensual distribution of photo, video, or audio of sexual activity, even if the sexual activity was consensual;
5. Intentional observation of nonconsenting individuals who are partially undressed, naked, or engaged in sexual acts;
6. Knowingly transmitting an STD or HIV to another individual through sexual activity;
7. Intentionally and inappropriately exposing one’s breasts, buttocks, groin, or genitals in non-consensual circumstances; and/or
8. Sexually-based bullying.

Sexual Harassment: Unwelcome verbal, nonverbal, or physical conduct, based on sex or on gender stereotypes, that is implicitly or explicitly a term or condition of employment or status in a course, program, or activity; is a basis for employment or educational decisions; or is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive to interfere with one’s work or educational performance creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or learning environment, or interfering with or limiting one’s ability to participate in or to benefit from an institutional program or activity.

Sexual Misconduct: Includes, but is not limited to, such unwanted behavior as dating violence, domestic violence, nonconsensual sexual contact, sexual exploitation, sexual harassment and stalking.

Stalking: Engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for his or her safety or the safety of others or suffer substantial emotional distress. Course of conduct means two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts in which the stalker directly, indirectly, or through third parties, by any action, method, device, or means, follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, or communicates to or about a person, or interferes with person’s property. Reasonable person means a reasonable person under similar circumstances and with similar identities to the victim. Substantial emotional distress means significant mental suffering or anguish that may but does not necessarily, require medical or other professional treatment or counseling.
Reporting Sexual Misconduct

A complainant of sexual misconduct may, but need not, file a criminal complaint with law enforcement officials; file a misconduct report with a Responsible Employee or Coordinator; or file both. A report may be filed anonymously, although anonymous reports may make it difficult for the institution to address the complaint. Any individual who believes that he or she has been a victim of sexual misconduct is encouraged to report allegations of sexual misconduct promptly. All reports of sexual misconduct alleged to have been committed by a student must be handled consistently with requirements set forth in the AU Student Code of Conduct.

All reports of sexual misconduct alleged to have been committed by a non-student member of the institution community will be addressed and/or resolved through the institution’s and the Board of Regents’ applicable policies for discipline of non-students.

Institutional Reports

Complainants of sexual misconduct who wish to file a report with the institution should notify a Responsible Employee or the Title IX Coordinator. Responsible Employees informed about sexual misconduct allegations involving any student should not attempt to resolve the situation, but must notify and report all relevant information to the Title IX Coordinator as soon as practicable. Confidential Employees are not bound by this requirement but may be required to report limited information about incidents without revealing the identities of the individuals involved to the Title IX Coordinator, consistent with their ethical and legal obligations.

All members of the Augusta University community are encouraged to report incidents of sexual misconduct promptly. Incidences may be reported on the Sexual Misconduct Support website at http://www.augusta.edu/student-life/conduct/sexual-misconduct-policy.php or by contacting the AU Title IX Coordinator, Michele Reed, at micreed@augusta.edu or by calling 706-721-0901 or 706-829-5172.

Augusta University encourages complainants to report their complaints in writing, though oral complaints should also be accepted, taken seriously, and investigated, to the extent possible. While complaints should be made as quickly as possible following an alleged incident of sexual misconduct, all reports should be accepted regardless of when reported.

The Coordinator shall refer to the System Director any allegation(s) of sexual misconduct that could, standing alone as reported, lead to the suspension or expulsion of the respondent(s). The System Director will work with the institution to determine whether any interim measure(s) are necessary and to assign an investigator who will work under the direction of the System Director or designee, if directed by System Director. If an allegation is not initially identified as one that would lead to the suspension or expulsion of the respondent(s), but facts arise during the course of the investigation that would require transfer to the System Director, the Title IX Coordinator shall transfer oversight to the System Director or designee. The System Director shall have the discretion to retain oversight or transfer oversight to the institution.
Law Enforcement Reports
Because sexual misconduct may constitute criminal activity, a complainant also has the option, should he or she so choose, of filing a report with campus or local police, for his or her own protection and that of the surrounding community. The institution may assist the complainant in reporting the situation to law enforcement officials.

Complainants considering filing a report of sexual misconduct with law enforcement should preserve any evidence of sexual misconduct, including, but not limited to, the following:

1. Clothing worn during the incident including undergarments;
2. Sheets, bedding, and condoms, if used;
3. Lists of witnesses with contact information;
4. Text messages, call history, social media posts;
5. Pictures of injuries; and/or
6. Videos.

Anonymous Reports
Augusta University shall provide a mechanism by which individuals can report incidents of alleged sexual misconduct anonymously. Complainants should understand, however, that it will be more difficult for the institution to investigate and to take action upon anonymous reports.

Retaliation
Anyone who, in good faith, reports what he or she believes to be misconduct under this Policy, or who participates or cooperates in, or is otherwise associated with any investigation, shall not be subjected to retaliation. Anyone who believes that he or she has been the target of retaliation for reporting, participating, cooperating in, or otherwise being associated with an investigation should immediately contact the Coordinator for the institution. Any person found to have engaged in retaliation in violation of this Policy shall be subject to disciplinary action.

False Complaints
Individuals are prohibited from intentionally giving false statements to a system or institution official. Any person found to have intentionally submitted false complaints, accusations, or statements, including during a hearing, in violation of this Policy shall be subject to appropriate disciplinary action (up to and including suspension or expulsion) and adjudicated under the student conduct policy.

Amnesty
Individuals should be encouraged to come forward and to report sexual misconduct notwithstanding their choice to consume alcohol or to use drugs. Information reported by an individual during an investigation concerning use of drugs or alcohol will not be used against the particular individual in a disciplinary proceeding or voluntarily reported to law enforcement; however, individuals may be provided with resources on drug and alcohol counseling and/or education, as appropriate.
Handling Reports of Sexual Misconduct

Support Services
Once a student or employee makes a complaint or receives notice that a complaint has been made against him or her, or the coordinator otherwise learns of a complaint of sexual misconduct. The complainant, respondent and alleged victim (where applicable) should receive written information about support services, such as counseling, advocacy, housing assistance, academic support, disability services, health and mental services, and legal assistance, available at the student’s institution.

Information on support services will be provided regardless as to whether an individual elects to go forward with filing a formal complaint of sexual misconduct or with notifying law enforcement. Information on support services will also be provided to students and employees, regardless of where the alleged misconduct occurs.

Available support services are also be listed on the institution’s Title IX website at http://www.augusta.edu/prevention/.

Interim Measures
Interim measures may be undertaken at any point after the institution becomes aware of an allegation of sexual misconduct and should be designed to protect the alleged victim and the community.
Before an interim suspension is issued, the institution must make all reasonable efforts to give the respondent the opportunity to be heard, consistent with the provisions in the AU Student Code of Conduct.

Jurisdiction
Augusta University shall take necessary and appropriate action to protect the safety and well-being of its community. Sexual misconduct allegedly committed by a student are addressed by this Policy when the misconduct occurs on institution property, or at institution-sponsored or affiliated events, or off-campus, as defined by the institution’s student conduct policies.

Advisors
Both the alleged victim and respondent, as parties to the matter, shall have the opportunity to use an advisor (who may or may not be an attorney) of the party’s choosing at the party’s own expense for the express purpose of providing advice and counsel, pursuant to the provisions of AU Student Code of Conduct.

Informal Resolutions
Allegations of sexual misconduct may be resolved informally, without a determination of misconduct, if all of the following are met:

1) When complainant(s) and respondent agree to an informal resolution;
2) When the initial allegation could not result in expulsion;
3) When the complainant(s) and respondent(s) agree to the terms of the informal resolution; and
4) When the investigator concludes that informal resolution is in the best interest of the parties and the institution’s community.

The alleged victim(s) and respondent(s) have the option to end informal resolution discussions and request a formal process at any time before the terms of an informal resolution are reached. However, matters resolved informally shall not be appealable.

Timeframe

Efforts will be made to complete the investigation within a reasonable timeframe, which will be determined based upon the allegations, availability of witnesses and/or evidence, etc. in a particular case. When the timeframe will extend past the reasonable timeframe, the parties will be informed of the delay and the reason for the delay. The investigator shall keep the parties informed of the status of the investigation.

Investigations

All sexual misconduct investigations involving a student respondent, whether overseen by the institution’s Coordinator or the System Director, shall follow the investigation process set forth in the AU Student Code of Conduct.

Hearings, Possible Sanctions and Appeals

All sexual misconduct hearings, sanctions, and appeals involving a student respondent, whether overseen by the institution’s Coordinator or the System Director, shall follow the investigation process set forth in the AU Student Code of Conduct.

All sexual misconduct adjudication involving an employee respondent shall be addressed utilizing the institution’s employment policies and procedures.

SECTION 5: ACADEMIC STANDARDS AND PROCEDURES

This section outlines policies and procedures related to students’ rights, responsibilities, and opportunities as it relates to the classroom, lab, clinic, and research functions of the University. The title of each policy is linked to the official Policy Library by “hyperlink.” As stated earlier in this publication, the Student Manual serves as a compliment to the University’s policy library and to the undergraduate and graduate catalogs. If any portion is in direct conflict with the policies of the University, or those of the Board of Regents (BOR), the policies of the University and the BOR will be used. To that end, please use the hyperlinks provided to review the University’s official policy.
Section 5.1: Student Academic Appeals

An academic appeal is a request for review of an administrative decision made with respect to an individual student which bears upon his/her student career. The appeals procedure does not apply to issues which have broad application to the university as a whole or to constituent groupings within the university. However, appeals can be made in matters such as admission, transfer of credit, probation, suspension, dismissal, and other similar matters. Appeals also may be made in cases related to the Augusta University Student Concerns Regarding Educational Expectations policy. A supervisor’s decision in an appeal can itself be appealed, but there is no appeal of the President’s decisions except in cases where it is reasonably alleged that a decision against the student was based on discrimination with respect to race, sex, age, handicap, religion, or national origin.

Section 5.2: Academic Conduct

Academic Honesty

The University recognizes that honesty and integrity are necessary to its academic function. The following regulations protect the equity and validity of the university’s grades and degrees, and help students develop ethical standards and attitudes appropriate to academic and professional life.

Violations of academic honesty include cheating of all kinds, plagiarism, fraudulent research activity and/or scholarship, collusion, and false statements made to avoid negative academic consequences.

Cheating on course examinations or assignments is prohibited; including but not limited to the following:

- Possessing, using, or exchanging improperly acquired information, whether in written or oral form, in the preparation of any essay, laboratory report, or other assignment in an academic course, or in preparing for any examination in a course.
- Copying from another student’s paper.
- Use of prepared materials, notes, or texts other than those specifically permitted by the instructor during the examination.
- Collaboration with another student during an examination, unless such collaboration is explicitly allowed by the course instructor for the examination in question.
- Unapproved use of any technological device to gain or provide advantage on an examination, lab practical, or other assignment to be submitted for academic credit.
- Substituting for another person during an examination or allowing someone else to substitute for you.
- Solicitation or bribery of any person to obtain examination information.

Plagiarism is prohibited. Themes, essays, term papers, tests, presentations, creative works, and similar work submitted to satisfy course and program requirements must be the personal work of the student submitting it. Plagiarism is the failure to acknowledge indebtedness to the authors/creators of works used to complete such assignments and/or other course requirements. It is always assumed that the work offered for evaluation and credit is the student’s own unless otherwise acknowledged. Such acknowledgment should occur whenever one quotes another person’s actual words; whenever one appropriates another person’s ideas, opinions, or theories, even if they are paraphrased; and whenever one borrows facts, statistics, or other illustrative materials, unless the information is common knowledge. Further, it is expected, in the production of creative work, that the student's work products are original, and that any images, sounds, or other intellectual properties that are not the original work of the student will be used fairly and with acknowledgement of the original source(s).

Research Misconduct is prohibited. Misrepresentation of data collection and analysis, including falsification, fabrication or omission of data is prohibited. Augusta University Policy for Responding to Allegations of Research Misconduct applies to students.

Collusion is unauthorized assistance from or collaboration with another person in the preparation or editing of notes, themes, reports, or other written work or in laboratory work offered for evaluation and credit, unless such assistance or collaboration is specifically approved in advance by the instructor. In cases of collusion, both the provider and recipient of such assistance are in violation of this academic conduct policy. However, students are authorized to use appropriate campus resources in the completion of written work (e.g., the campus Writing Center). Unless stated otherwise by the course instructor, use of such campus resources does not constitute academic misconduct under this policy. However, no student, except those working in a tutorial capacity in a University-approved academic support center, will knowingly give or receive unauthorized assistance in the preparation of any assignment, essay, laboratory report or examination to be submitted for credit in an academic course.

False statements made to avoid negative academic consequences include oral and/or written statements designed to obfuscate, misrepresent, or otherwise distort the presentation of facts related to a student's academic conduct in a course or program of study. Examples of such false statements include, but are not limited to, oral or written documentation providing willfully inaccurate information related to attendance, course work, examinations, and/or other course requirements enumerated in the syllabus of the particular course for which such a statement is provided.

While these acts constitute assured instances of academic misconduct, other acts of academic misconduct may be defined by the professor in his/her course syllabus.

Responsibilities:

Faculty Responsibility: It is the duty of the faculty to practice and preserve academic honesty and to encourage it among students. The instructor should clarify in the course syllabus any situation peculiar to the course that may differ from the generally stated policy. He or she should, whenever possible, make explicit the intent and purpose of each assignment so that the student may complete the assignment without unintentionally compromising academic honesty. It is the responsibility of the faculty member to provide for appropriate oversight of assignments, examinations, internship components, and other course requirements. Finally, it is the responsibility of the faculty member to provide written notice to the student of any suspected violations of the academic conduct policy.
Student Responsibility: It is the duty of the student to practice and preserve academic honesty. Each student should be aware of the specific policies governing academic conduct for the program(s) and course(s) in which he or she is enrolled, as well as the grievance and appeals processes put in place for adjudicating such policies. If the student has any doubt about a situation, he or she should consult with his or her instructor. It is also the student’s responsibility to maintain his/her correct address of record with Augusta University so that official notification of the student regarding academic misconduct can be carried out in timely fashion.

Section 5.3: Student Grievances
The student has a right to fair treatment under the academic policies and procedures of Augusta University, as enumerated through stated academic regulations, academic program and course requirements, instructors’ course syllabi, or other affirmative statements of academic policy. This policy provides recourse for any student who feels that his or her academic rights have been violated by the instructor in a course the student is taking or has recently taken.

Section 5.4: Attendance Policy
Regular, punctual attendance is expected of students in all classes at Augusta University and is counted from the first class meeting each term. Professors are required to monitor student attendance or ongoing participation in courses. Students who incur an excessive number of absences are subject to academic penalty. Additional attendance requirements may be established by the individual schools or programs at Augusta University as well as by the faculty for distance learning courses.

At the beginning of each semester, all professors will provide a clear written statement to all their classes regarding their policies in handling absences. Professors will also be responsible for counseling with their students regarding the academic consequences of absences from their classes or laboratories. Students are obligated to adhere to the requirements of each course and each course professor.

To assist the University in complying with federal regulations pertaining to financial aid, faculty members are also required to maintain a record of and report student non-attendance at the start of each academic term. The Vice Provost is responsible for informing faculty of the duration of the nonattendance verification period and appropriate reporting method at the beginning of each academic term. In accordance with this policy, a student who does not attend a class or begin participation in an online course during the non-attendance verification period will be dropped from the course by the professor unless they have contacted their professor and notified them of their reason for non-attendance. In the event a student is dropped for non-attendance during this designated time period, the effect is the same as if the student never registered for the class and the course will not appear on the student’s transcript.

Professors will be flexible enough in their attendance and grading policies to allow students a reasonable number of absences without penalty for extraordinary personal reasons or for officially representing the university. However, if the student has been absent for more than the equivalent of 10 percent of class time, regardless of cause, then the professor may withdraw the student from the class for excessive absences.
It is important to note that the instructor may—or may not—withdraw a student from class based upon attendance. No student should assume that the instructor has initiated the withdrawal form. A student not withdrawn from a course who stops attending class (or who never attends class) is subject to receiving a grade of WF or F for the course.

Section 5.5: Email as Official Mode of Communication

All students at Augusta University Augusta are expected to check their email account on a regular basis for important university announcements and other pertinent information. Students are also expected to update their contact information in Banner when necessary.

Section 5.6: Intellectual Property

Augusta University places a high value on the innovations created by all members of the University community. In furtherance of the public good, Augusta University endeavors to identify, protect, market, license, and manage promising new innovations. To this end, this policy represents the core principles and practices regarding intellectual property and its commercialization at the University.

Section 5.7: Criminal Conviction Disclosure

Students, who are enrolled in programs which require licensure, are required to disclose in writing to the Dean of their respective College or the Office of the Dean of Students any criminal convictions that occur since the disclosure they completed with their application for admission. Criminal convictions include adjudication of guilt by a jury or judge for any crime. Minor traffic offenses are not included, but “no contest” pleas, first-offender treatment, convictions under appeal, and convictions that have been pardoned are included. Disclosures should be made within 30 days of conviction.

SECTION 6: GETTING INVOLVED

STUDENT ENGAGEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Section 6.1: Department of Student Life and Engagement

The Department of Student Life and Engagement (SLE) exists to give students an opportunity to become involved in activities that complement their academic endeavors. The mission of SLE is to engage students, provide purposeful opportunities that enhance the academic experience and foster personal growth in an environment that demonstrates the University’s core values.

The Department of Student Life and Engagement is directly responsible for many of the areas funded by the Student Activities Fee. SLE provides advice and assistance to the Jaguar Production Crew, the fraternity and sorority community, and officially recognized clubs and organizations. The SLE also coordinates new student orientation, leadership programming, and opportunities to get involved in service projects. SLE also coordinates the operations of the Jaguar Student Activity Center (JSAC).
Section 6.2: Student Organizations
Augusta University offers a wide array of student organizations. All student organizations must be officially recognized by the University. Recognition of student organizations is managed by the Department of Student Life & Engagement. All student organizations must have a faculty/staff advisor who is a full-time employee of the University, and a written constitution that includes a clause of nondiscrimination. Information regarding recognized student organizations and guidelines can be found on the Department of Student Life & Engagement’s Jag Life website.

Section 6.3: Student Organization Rights and Responsibilities
Students and organizations are not only members of the academic community, but also are members of the larger society. As part of the University community, members of student organizations have a responsibility to know and follow all University rules and regulations. Student Organizations may be held accountable under the Code of Conduct. A student organization and its officers may be held collectively and individually responsible when violations of the Code of Conduct by those associated with the organization have received the consent or encouragement of the organization, or of the organization’s leaders or officers.

To determine whether a student organization is responsible for a violation of the Code of Conduct, all circumstances will be considered, including, but not limited to: whether the misconduct was committed by one or more members of the organization; whether officers of the organization had prior knowledge of the misconduct; whether organization funds were used; whether the misconduct occurred as a result of an organization-sponsored function; and whether members of the organization lied about the incident.

Section 6.4: Fraternity and Sorority Life
Augusta University is home to eleven social Greek-letter fraternities and sororities. While each chapter has their own rituals, traditions, and philanthropies, together the brotherhoods and sisterhoods strive to live by Augusta University’s Greek Life core values of scholarship, leadership, service, and friendship. In order to join a fraternity or sorority, a student must have at least a 2.5 grade point average, but students should also understand that individual organization’s membership standards may be higher. For more information please visit the Greek Life website.

Section 6.5: Student Government Association
Acting as the voice of all students enrolled at Augusta University, the Student Government Association (SGA) actively works to improve the quality of life for the Student Body, along with the University and surrounding community as a whole. Believing in the right of self-governance, all students enrolled at Augusta University are eligible to be a member of the SGA.

The Student Government Association facilitates the exchange of information and ideas between the students of all colleges of AU. Serves as a liaison between students, faculty, staff and the administration in order to represent student opinions, needs, and interests to the administration; and to disseminate and promote the exchange of information from the administration and faculty to students. The SGA takes action to increase the quality of student services, academic programs, and the AU environment to further enhance the education of AU students. Lastly, the SGA supports a variety of social, cultural, intellectual and recreational events to promote fellowship, personal growth, and involvement of AU students.

The structure of the SGA is comprised of executive and legislative branches. The legislative branches are comprised of the Senate and a House of Representatives. The Senate represents the undergraduate students through the Undergraduate SGA, while the House of Representatives serves the graduate students through the Graduate SGA.

Section 6.6: Jaguar Production Crew (“The Crew”)
The Jaguar Production Crew is the main programming body of Augusta University. The Crew coordinates activities that enhance and enrich the quality of student life by addressing the needs and interests of its diverse student body.

The goal of The Crew is to uphold and maintain four pillars of student programming:

• Cultural: To encourage students to look outside of themselves, become aware of and respectful toward the values, customs, and differences in the world around them.

• Developmental: To encourage students to improve awareness and identity, develop talents and potential, and contribute to the realization of dreams and aspirations.

• Entertainment: To offer programs and events which are fun for students and will enhance their college experience.

• Social: To provide opportunities for students to connect and nurture relationships with each other while allowing them to build networks within the University.

Section 6.7: Jaguar Student Activities Center
The Jaguar Student Activities Center (JSAC) opened in the fall of 2006, and houses the following: six event and meeting spaces; a large TV lounge; a game room that includes billiards, table tennis, and video game consoles; and several seating areas for socializing and dining. The JSAC offers a food court with several dining options that include Starbucks, smoothies, deli options, sushi, pizza, and grille options. managing the daily operations, providing audio-visual support for meetings and events, handling general maintenance, supervising additional JSAC student staff, and serving the needs of all guests who enter the facility. Game room attendants welcome student guests, assist with the maintenance of the facility, manage the equipment, and oversee the equipment rental process. Event staff setup and breakdown rooms between events and assists SLE with additional events held outside the JSAC and staff the Information Desk.

Student organizations are given priority for JSAC reservation requests because the facility is funded by student fees. Reservation requests also are open to University departments with the understanding that student organizations are given priority. Confirmed reservations are not changed or cancelled to provide available space for an organization or department. Reservations are currently unavailable to groups, organizations, or individuals outside Augusta University. Reservation requests are completely handled

Section 7.2: Clery Act & Crime Statistics Report
The Jeanne Clery Act, a consumer protection law passed in 1990, requires all colleges and universities who receive federal funding to share information about crime on campus and their efforts to improve campus safety as well as inform the public of crime in or around campus. This information is made publicly accessible through the university's annual security report. Augusta University’s Annual Security Report can be found here.

Under the Act, institutions must provide survivors of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking with options such as changes to academic, transportation, or living, or working situations, and assistance in notifying local law enforcement, if the student or employee chooses to do so. It also provides both parties in a campus disciplinary process certain rights.

Colleges and universities must outline specific policies and procedures within their annual security reports, including those related to disseminating timely warnings and emergency notifications, options for survivors of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, and campus crime reporting processes.

Section 7.3: Student Health Services
Student Health Services provides primary medical care services and health promotion programs in an outpatient setting exclusively for students at Augusta University (AU) who are currently registered for classes. Section 7.7: Military and Veterans Services
Augusta University maintains an Office of Military and Veterans Services (MVS) to assist service members, veterans and their affiliated family members to maximize their educational experience. The MVS is located on the second floor of Washington Hall, Suite 212 and coordinates Veterans and Tuition Assistance benefit processing. Augusta University is a Yellow Ribbon School. Yellow Ribbon candidates must be fully accepted and 100% eligible for Post 911 G.I. educational benefits. Recently Separated Military Fee or Active Duty Fee Waivers will be applied first for those who are eligible.

As students at AU, veterans and certain other persons may qualify for VA benefits. Eligibility for such benefits must be established in accordance with policies and procedures of the VA. Interested persons are advised to investigate their eligibility early when planning to attend the University. New or returning students should make adequate financial provisions for one full semester from other sources, since payments from the VA are sometimes delayed. Each person receiving VA educational benefits is responsible for ensuring that all information affecting his or her receipt of benefits is kept current, and each must confer with the School Certifying Official in the MVS at least once each semester to keep his or her status active to receive funds.

Active duty soldiers may be eligible for Tuition Assistance (TA) as well as some Reservists and National Guard members. AU is an LOI Institution in the Go/Army/Ed web site. Service members must first establish an account at the Education Services Division Office at their current duty station, and they must name Augusta University as their home institution. Service members in the Air Force, Navy and Marines may also be eligible for Tuition Assistance. For more information, contact mvs@augusta.edu.

In addition to Veteran’s benefits and Tuition Assistance processing, we offer a VET2VET mentoring program which partners current students who have attended the University for at least a year with freshmen or new transfer students to help them transition to the institution. To become a mentor or mentee, visit our web page here and complete the appropriate application. Students who are eligible for VA benefits may receive tutoring services as part of that benefit. See the VA School Certifying Official to determine your eligibility. As an added service, the MVS provides a student lounge and private study rooms where military and veteran students can meet, study, and hold group study sessions. For access to the facility or to reserve a room, speak to a staff member in the MVS Office.

- Professionalism
- Respect
- Excellence

The Augusta University dispatch communications center receives routine and emergency calls on 706-721-2911. Augusta University Public Safety Administration can be reached at 706-721-2914 during normal business hours.

When someone calls into the communications center, the dispatcher will need to obtain enough information to determine which, and how many officers need to be dispatched. Public Safety maintains a close working relationships with all local law enforcement agencies and continuously share information regarding incidents that occur in each jurisdiction.

Augusta University Public Safety is comprised of sworn/certified police officers who have the authority to arrest and enforce law similar to any other police jurisdiction in the state of Georgia. All officers are trained and certified in accordance with the Georgia Peace Officers Standards and Training Council rules and regulations. They respond to calls for service, make preliminary investigations of reported crimes, provide safety escorts, provide crime prevention classes and assist the campus community in any way possible. Uniform police officers receive a minimum of twenty (20) hours of continuing education training each year, which includes topics such as crisis management, legal updates, active shooter training, domestic violence, CPR, conflict resolution and other areas that enhance their ability to enforce the law and help our community.

In the pursuit of excellence, the Augusta University Police Department has been awarded State Certification, an accreditation granted to the top 15% of all law enforcement agencies in the State of Georgia. Through a statewide integrated computer network, the communications center has immediate access to both national and statewide law enforcement criminal databases. Augusta University Police have signed Memorandums of Understandings with local law enforcement agencies that will ensure any additional manpower and/or specialized support needed will be available upon request. Emergency telephones are strategically placed throughout the campuses and all campus elevators are equipped with emergency telephones for emergency contact with Public Safety.

Rave Guardian, a Smart Phone app has been purchased for all students and employees of Augusta University. Any person with an “august.edu” e-mail domain can download this app for free at the App Store or Google Play. Rave Guardian can be used as a panic alarm system for individuals. With this location, a Police Officer can be immediately dispatched to your location. It can also be used to provide crime tips and information to Public Safety.

Any found property not claimed by the legal owner will be held for ninety days and then disposed of according to Georgia law.

Lost Augusta University ID cards will be returned to one of two places. On the Summerville Campus, they will be taken to the Jag Card Office on the second floor of the JSAC building. On the Health Sciences Campus they will be taken to the Badge/Key Control Office in the Public Safety Building, (HT) Annex II.

• Facilities are defined as buildings, labs, athletic fields, and or other real property owned or leased by Augusta University.
• Failure to present a valid ID card upon request will result in the person not being allowed to enter the area and being asked to leave campus.
• University Policy allows for students to enter campus facilities after-hours when they have received prior written authorization. This means your professor, supervisor, or building manager must submit the proper paperwork to the Augusta University Police Communications Center prior to being admitted to the locked building or area. In the event the University is closed for an emergency during the semester, there will be no access granted to any student, faculty, or staff without authorization from the Office of the President.

Section 7.13: Campus Stores

Two campus stores serve Augusta University. The JagStore - Summerville campus and the JagStore - Health Sciences campus. The stores are committed to excellence in providing a trusted resource for course materials, services, and other merchandise while enhancing and supporting the educational and social experiences of Augusta University students, faculty, and staff. The bookstores are the source for all course materials including textbooks, lab supplies, course packets, school supplies, and study aids. Students may purchase or rent new or used textbooks. The bookstores accept cash, check, Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and Financial Aid/Loans for all payments. Financial Aid/Loans are accepted for several days prior, and generally the first week of each academic session. Please check the bookstore website for dates. A primary goal of the bookstore is to provide educational materials to students at the lowest cost possible.

Money Saving tips for purchasing course materials:

- Compare prices for textbooks here. This site will allow you to compare prices for Augusta University textbooks with several vendors, including the JagStore. Use caution when purchasing from sources other than the JagStore, be sure the books have all of the components required by your professor.
- Purchase used books when possible; used textbooks are 25% cheaper than new and help preserve our environment.
- Purchase your books before class or as early as possible; more used books are available and the bookstore is not as busy. Books are organized by course, so you just need your schedule to find the correct books.
- Consider renting textbooks. Many titles are available as a rental textbook.
- Purchase only the required materials before class; if a textbook is listed as optional or recommended, wait until after classes begin. You may not need this book.
- Sell your unwanted textbooks at the end of the semester; the JagStore will pay up to 50% of the purchase price for books that have been re-adopted for the next semester, are in current edition, and are not overstocked at the bookstore. All other books may be purchased by a national used book dealer.
Refund Policy:
The JagStore is happy to offer refunds and exchanges:

- An original sales receipt is required for all refunds and exchanges.
- Return the merchandise in the same condition as when purchased.
- Return all components with book; for example, bring back any online access codes that were packaged with the book(s).
- Make your returns within the proper time-frame: The final day for refunds will be posted in the bookstore, printed on your receipt, and listed in campus publications each semester.
- Software, multimedia products, and graduation regalia items are non-returnable.
- We will exchange most defective merchandise within 10 days of purchase, with the original register receipt.
- The staff of the JagStore are happy to answer any questions you may have about our refund policy.

Section 7.20: Financial Aid
Staff members in the Office of Student Financial Aid are available to assist students through the financial aid process by providing students with information about federal, state, and institutional loans, grants, scholarships, and work study programs. The Office encourages all current or prospective students to explore their financial aid options at Augusta University.

Begin the application process for financial aid after October 1st for the upcoming academic year by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). To apply for the HOPE Scholarship ONLY, completing the FAFSA is not required but you must complete an online application at www.GAcollege411.org available under GSFAPPS and some students are also required to complete a HOPE Scholarship Form (see form for details.). Please complete the application process by the published priority dates and/or deadlines.

To receive aid under any of the federal or state programs, you must:
1. Be a citizen of the United States or be in the United States for other than a temporary purpose, or otherwise be classified as an eligible non-citizen.
2. Demonstrate financial need (where applicable).
3. Make Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) as defined by the Augusta University Financial Aid Office.

You are expected to submit all required applications and supporting documents as soon as possible after October 1st before the following academic year. Failure to respond to requests from the Financial Aid Office may result in incurring your own educational expenses until your financial aid file is complete and aid can be processed.

All scholarships are awarded by the Augusta University Scholarship and Financial Assistance Committee and require an institutional scholarship application, available from December 1 through February 1, for each upcoming academic year. The Augusta University Academic Scholarship Application can be completed online through Academic Works.

Students receiving financial aid should check their POUNCE account to see their financial aid status. Students must ACCEPT OR DECLINE any offered aid in POUNCE before aid will be disbursed. If a student has completed a FAFSA and does not see the FAFSA listed as “Satisfied,” the student is encouraged to notify the Office of Student Financial Aid immediately.

Section 7.21: Business Office

The Business Office assists students with understanding their bill, payments, and refund information. Registration is not complete until all institutional charges are paid in full. This includes not only matriculation charges, but also any fines or miscellaneous charges due to the University.

Students may pay any institutional balance online through POUNCE, which can be accessed from the portal web page. Students may pay by electronic web check online for no additional charge. Credit cards may be used online via a third party, PayPath, for a convenience fee of 2.75% of the balance, with a minimum of $3. Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and American Express are accepted online. The institution does not accept credit cards in the Business Office for payment of student charges. In the Business Office, cash, check, and money orders are accepted for payment of student charges. Bank wire payments may be set up ahead of payment deadlines by contacting the Business Office for more information. Upon logging into POUNCE, students may access the link from the main menu to submit secure electronic payment.

Refunds are processed electronically to student’s bank accounts based on the information that the student has entered through POUNCE. Students must log onto POUNCE and enter their banking information including the routing and account number in order to receive their refund electronically. This electronic refund is available after drop/add and attendance verification to ensure all class adjustments are captured. Students who are not able to open a bank account may opt to receive a paper check. Paper checks are mailed to the student’s most current mailing address on file. Students are encouraged to keep their bank account and mailing address information updated in POUNCE so that their funds are received promptly. More information about how to complete the eRefund information on POUNCE can be found here.

Other than matriculation charges with specific posted deadlines, balances on POUNCE are due immediately upon assessment. Accounts receivable holds are placed on accounts when they become delinquent. This hold prevents registration and official transcript generation. Holds are removed once the delinquent balance is paid in full. If payment is made by check, the hold will remain in place until the check has cleared, up to 10 business days. If a balance remains unpaid and all collection efforts by the institution have been exhausted, the account will be turned over to a collection agency for further action. Once an account is turned over to the collection agency, the collection agency must be paid in full.

An item that students ask about frequently are waivers. New students must submit requests for waivers through Admissions during the Admissions Process. Continuing students must apply for waivers through the Registrar’s Office prior to the start of the term if they did not apply for the waiver upon admission in their first term. Many waivers require re-application through the Registrar’s Office after the student is enrolled and in the first term if the student did not complete the waiver process in Admissions processing. Approved waivers may offset a portion of the cost of attendance.

Students must review POUNCE even if they expect to receive enough financial aid or other outside funding sources. Financial aid must be accepted on POUNCE by the student before it can be applied or disbursed. Payments from investment accounts including 529 plans should be requested to be mailed to the institution at minimum 6 weeks ahead of the payment deadline to ensure the payment will be received prior to the start of classes. Most schools’ payment deadlines fall within the same month, and these financial institutions have a backlog of requests that slows down their processing.
