Welcome to Open House Spring 2021: #WeGotThis!

The AU Academic Open House is an opportunity for you to learn what to expect this spring term and get ready for the first week of class. College is different than usual this year, so sign up for a workshop, get a preview of class expectations, and walk on campus with confidence this spring.

Information sessions, both online and in-person in University Hall, will be held on the 5th and 6th of January. By signing up you can get some insights into how to best manage different types of courses and get a better handle on the technology we have at AU to support you. We have limited seats to promote discussion while meeting health guidelines, so sign-up and reserve your spot on the ASC webpage. Jump on the shuttle and come to Summerville or sit back with your laptop to join the conversation.

Engage in the Open House and be ready to Succeed in the classroom!

Tips for managing your coursework
Get some insight on what to expect in the classroom with peer coaches or faculty guides. Take this opportunity to map out your first week so you know where to go and when to be there. Your course schedule might seem a little overwhelming at first, with in-person and online instruction, including synchronous and asynchronous meetings. Truth is no two classes are likely to be the same.

Computers and Technology
Visit with IT to explore your classroom technology. Learn tips and tricks to maximize your D2L experience, how to access Outlook and teams, and more. This is an opportunity to ask questions and get yourself ready for online instruction this term. Bring your laptop and practice!

More to Explore
Make the most of college and engage with opportunities to grow beyond your class schedule. Learn how to find a part time job or build your professional skills with Career Services. And how to maintain motivation in an uncertain environment.
