SPRING BREAK

April 3 - 9th

Hungry Mother State Park, Virginia

Hungry Mother State Park encompasses roughly 3,000 acres with 250 acres developed. The park is nestled in the Appalachian mountains of southwest Virginia and has a 108-acre lake were you can go Canoeing, kayaking, and paddle boarding. Hungry Mother also has 18 miles of some of the finest mountain trails to hike and bike. Enjoy a week of exploration as well as service projects such as trail building and replanting native plant along the trails.
