your Collaboration

Contact us today to see how you can join our cause in creating a healthier tomorrow. We are always looking to recruit participants for any number of ongoing studies. Many of our studies will provide some sort of monetary compensation for your time and effort in your involvement. We also provide internships and volunteer opportunities for research experience.

Service & Education

- Summer research programs for medical students
- Mentorship for graduate students, interns, post-docs and fellows
- Ground breaking discoveries in improving health outcomes
- Development of new diagnostic techniques and prevention strategies to reduce healthcare costs
- Participation in health fairs to offer free health screenings to underserved populations
- Annual charity events such as Operation Christmas Child and CSRA Humane Society

our Motivation

Discovery

The goals of our research are to develop new techniques and strategies for disease prevention and treatment across the body systems.

Mentorship

GPI faculty demonstrate our commitment to training the next generation by mentoring rising healthcare professionals and teaching graduate and medical school courses.

Community

Our service activities, which include health fairs and community and church activities, demonstrate the contribution of GPI to the service mission of AU.
