iv. Curriculum and Academic Policies (Johnson and Weeks):

Has met monthly since December. The committee approved 7 proposals from the College of Science and Math. The College separated out the labs from the lecture in the Biology 1101 and 1102 Courses. They added MATH 2011 Calculus and Analytical Geometry to Core Area A2 and MATH 2012 Calculus and Analytical Geometry II to Core area D. They also changed the course description and number for Elementary Statistics (MATH 1401) to comply with the USG BOR. The committee approved MUSI 2350 – The World of Film Music and a COMM1100 – Public Speaking proposals, but rejected Anthropology 1105 – Introduction to Physical Anthropology, as it had not been reviewed by the CSM and College of Allied Health.

The committee also approved changes to the Admission policy for freshman, many of the changes were in the language. The USG’s Required High School curriculum which now includes alternative measures for Home School students and students from non-accredited high schools to meet the academic record requirements. It also establishes minimum SAT and ACT scores and Freshman Index for the research, comprehensive, and state universities, and allows state colleges the opportunity to elect whether they want to establish a minimum SATs, ACTs and FI. The new policy also allows for exceptions to the freshman requirements for international students.

A BS degree program in Cyber Engineering came before the committee, but had already been approved and slated for inclusion in the fall schedule, so the committee did nothing with that.

Kathy Browder and Katherine Sweeney attended the February meeting to present on the Momentum Year. They are in the process of developing a program so that students can manipulate classes to see which programs they can use their credits for. They are hoping for a design similar to Degreeworks, but this will allow students to add classes prior to completion.

Dr. Lord, the current chair of the committee, indicated that he will be retiring at the end of March.
v. Faculty Development (Bandy and Flynn):

The committee met on Feb 2nd. The main agenda item was to elect Dr. Siva Panda as the new co-chair. The committee provided feedback to Dr. Browder on the nomination call for the Louis K. Bell Research Award to clarify the use of campus location as surrogate for college identity. We recommended spelling out which colleges can submit nominations. Dr. Browder will make this recommendation to the Provost for next year. The committee is currently reviewing the Bell award nomination portfolios.

vi. Faculty Grievance (Shipman):

No Report

vii. Faculty Rights and Responsibilities (Verburg and Kouame):

Met on March 4, 2019.

The committee is tasked with three items:

1. Completion of updates to the Faculty Manual. The goal is to have this completed by the March 25 Senate meeting so that it can be forwarded to the Senators for comment and then approval at the April 22 meeting, the final one for the academic year.

2. Work on the “faculty workload project” to generate a summary of current campus policies/guidelines, definitions, procedures, and practices used to establish faculty roles and responsibilities; summarize how the assignment of workload is aligned to annual evaluation as well as promotion and tenure evaluation across the institution; and to identify any disconnections, discrepancies, and deficiencies among our institutional systems of faculty roles and evaluation.

3. Completion of the review and recommendations for the Outside Activities and Off-Campus Duty policy.

viii. Governance and Communication (Kubicki):

Met January 18th

Andrew Kemp (chair) is continually working on trying to get out awareness for upcoming Senate bylaws voting

ix. Student Affairs (Weeks):

No Report
x. University Promotion and Tenure (Kouame):

Pre-tenure review policy was sent back to the Promotion & Tenure Committee (not in line with USG).
