GUEST FACULTY:

The History of the Medical College of Georgia, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology 1934-2010.

Dr. Paul G. McDonough, Professor Emeritus in the Medical College of Georgia Department of Obstetrics/ Gynecology, Physiology and Pediatrics, joined the faculty in 1966. He directed the Section of Reproductive Endocrinology, Infertility and Genetics from 1966-96. He was acting director of MCG's Human Genetics Institute from 1982-93, when the Institute for Molecular Medicine and Genetics was established.

Dr. McDonough has published over 300 papers in peer-reviewed publications. He served as the first chairman of the American Congress of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and was its representative on the American Academy of Pediatrics' Genetics Committee from 1995-98. He is a past president of the American Society for Reproductive Medicine, the South Atlantic Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, the Society of Reproductive Endocrinology and the North American Society of Pediatric and Adolescent Gynecology.

The Paul G. McDonough Lectureship, founded by MCG in 2000, was funded by former fellows, many of whom now oversee obstetrics/ gynecology departments throughout the country. Dr. McDonough received the 1995 President's Distinguished Scientist Award from the Society for Gynecological Investigation. He has received Lifetime Achievement Awards from the MCG Research Institute, the South Atlantic Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and the American Society of Reproductive Medicine.

He is certified by the American Board of Medical Genetics in Clinical Genetics and Cytogenetics and the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, in which he is also subspecialty-certified in reproductive endocrinology.
