Required Training: Sexual Assault Prevention for Graduate and Professional Students

Dear Augusta University Students,

Augusta University has partnered with Everfi, whose mission is to help employees and students address critical life skills such as alcohol abuse prevention, sexual assault prevention, and financial literacy in higher education institutions across the country. Each year over 1,500,000 employees and students complete these courses.

Augusta University is committed to a safe and secure University and we want you to understand your rights and responsibilities affiliated with the sexual misconduct policy. One of the most important aspects of the sexual misconduct policy is knowing the reporting options, where to go for help, resources and how to help a friend and/or colleague who is dealing with a situation involving sexual misconduct, stalking, dating violence and domestic violence and to report this information to the police and the Title IX Coordinator at Augusta University immediately.
