A course is defined as hybrid if a course is taught as a combination of online and regular classroom instruction where up to 50% of class sessions may be delivered via distance education. The online instruction may be synchronous or asynchronous. The Schedule of Classes will reflect when students are required to attend in person and what day the instruction will be delivered online.

Hybrid Traditional Synchronous

Face to face attendance is required on the days designated with both a campus time and campus location. Online attendance is required on the days with both a campus time and location "Course Taught Online".
