AUGUSTA STATE UNIVERSITY

SPEND YOUR FRIDAYS WITH STEM
SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING, and MATH

SAVANNAH RIVER SCHOLAR PROGRAM
SCIENCE-MATH SEMINAR SERIES

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1-2 P.M.
Understanding River Hydrology and Biochemistry through Time-series Analysis
SHAWN ROSENQUIST
Research Scientist, Southeastern Natural Sciences Academy

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1-2 P.M.
The Large Hadron Collider as a Probe to the Very Early Universe: How and Why?
MARK KRUSE
Associate Professor of Physics, Duke University

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1-2 P.M.
Active Galactic Nuclei: What are They and What Can We Learn From Them?
CAROL HOOD
Assistant Professor of Physics, Augusta State University

All SRSP seminars will be held in W1002 Science Hall.
For more information, contact Dr. Andy Hauger, in ASU's Department of Chemistry and Physics, 706-667-4511 or visit the SRSP website at www.aug.edu/srsp.